Spring 2018 Sessions to Feature

Ollie Tunmer, Beat Goes On

Ollie is the founder and director of Beat Goes On. He is a former cast member of the hit show STOMP and its sister show, 'The Lost & Found Orchestra'. He is also a qualified secondary music teacher and combines these experiences to deliver what he hopes are fun, engaging, and memorable workshops.

As Director of Beat Goes On, Ollie has developed a range of percussive workshops which draw on participants' own ideas, while developing skills and knowledge. Ollie also promotes the use of music as a means of encouraging well-being, for both individuals and teaching communities.

Katie Neilson, The Voices Foundation

the voices foundation

transforming children through singing

The Voices Foundation provides bespoke singing programmes for nursery, primary and secondary schools, and Music Education Hubs. These programmes inspire children and young people through choral projects led by expert music leaders and develop existing classroom teachers' confidence and skills to lead music.

Katie Neilson graduated from the Royal Northern College of Music and took a PGCE in Primary Education at the UCL Institute of Education. She has worked with The Voices Foundation since 2006.

Spitalfields Music, Musical Rumpus

Spitalfields music

Spitalfields Music brings together world class artists and local people in one of the 'most unusual and creative corners of London.' Drawing inspiration from the surrounding area of Tower Hamlets, they produce an annual programme that is part music festival, part creative music projects within the local community.

Musical Rumpus opened its first season to sold out crowds of babies and toddlers in 2013 and has been touring its unique programme of opera for babies ever since. Along the way, the team have explored new resources and engagement techniques for the very youngest music-makers.

All sessions can be booked on the Newham Music Eventbrite page. Visit www.newham-music.org.uk for more information or call the office on 020 3598 6260.
